

In memory of my parents who died in concentration camp

May I never forget

that their light was cut off by those who do not know the source of all light.

May I never forget...

when I see wrong done by those who judge and are not called upon to judge.

May I never forget...

when I see someone hurt by those who cannot see, and by those who cannot hear.

May I never forget

that their light was cut off but still burns in me, trying to understand, trying to see. 1961
